Student Life

Experience student life with your peers at UW, a beautiful campus in Seattle. Known for its natural beauty, you can explore the campus while taking in the views of Lake Washington, the Cascade Range, and Olympic Mountains. University of Washington's popular UDistrict offers students the opportunity to explore the vibrant and global food culture, diverse array of shops, and chance to walk around the boundaries of campus.

Lodging and Meals

On campus, students will be living in Madrona Hall, a beautiful and newly renovated dorm on UW's North Campus. Students will be housed in a double, sharing a private bathroom with one roommate. Students are housed by gender, and floors are gender-segregated. Dorm rooms contain a Twin XL sized bed, a desk, drawers, mirror, and a closet. Mentors live on same floor as students and are available for any needs. Students will have most of their daily three meals in the on-campus dining hall, with some meals being off campus. The dining hall offers a wide selection of food with buffet style. There are ample food options accommodating vegetarian and vegan options, however, no Kosher or Halal options.
